What is a Notice of Suspected Impersonation?

You may believe that you are being impersonated, have been impersonated in the past or are at risk of being impersonated by somebody else. If so, you may wish to place a Notice of Suspected Impersonation on your Credit Report.

A Credit Report is based on information submitted by lenders every month to the Central Credit Register. Your Credit Report contains personal and credit information on all your loans, if the loan is for €500 or more, and any applications for new loans that you may have made. It contains important information about your loans and loan applications.

Lenders may request your Credit Report if:

- you have applied for a new loan;
- you have applied for different payment terms for your existing loan;
- you have fallen behind on repayments on your existing loan or have breached the limit on a credit card or overdraft.

If a lender, you or somebody else to whom you have given consent asks for your Credit Report while the Notice of Suspected Impersonation is in place, the Notice will be visible.

Who owns the information?

The Central Bank owns the information held on the Central Credit Register. The Central Bank is a data controller under the Data Protection Acts. Information submitted by lenders to the Central Credit Register is used to create individual Credit Reports. A Credit Report can help lenders when they make decisions about loans and loan applications. More information on the collection and use of your personal data is available at <https://www.centralcreditregister.ie/borrower-area/data-protection> where you will also find a link to the Central Bank's data protection privacy notice.
