What is an Explanatory Statement?

An Explanatory Statement is a statement of up to 200 words about information on your credit report. You can use it if you wish to explain an event or circumstances about your loan or loans. Any information you provide in your explanatory statement must relate only to you and your information on the Central Credit Register.

Your explanatory statement will be visible when a lender, you, or a person to whom you have given consent, obtains your credit report.

The explanatory statement is not a means of making a complaint. Information on how to make a complaint is available at centralbank.ie.

The explanatory statement must:

- relate only to you;
- relate only to your information held on the Central Credit Register;
- be no longer than 200 words.

It should not contain obscene or defamatory (damaging) statements.

You are the the author and publisher of this statement.

The Central Bank of Ireland cannot take responsibility for any explanatory statement that you publish. This is in line with Section 13 of the Credit Reporting Act 2013.

Who owns the information?

The Central Bank owns the information held on the Central Credit Register. The Central Bank is a data controller under the Data Protection Acts. Information submitted by lenders to the Central Credit Register is used to create individual credit reports. A credit report can help lenders when making decisions about loans and loan applications. More information on the collection and use of your personal data is available at centralcreditregister.ie where you will also find a link to the Central Bank's data protection privacy notice.
